No. 4: 'Home Rule' Gets M. S. J. Nod

A fourth community this week approved plans to explore "home rule" for Washington Township when Mission San Jose formally akehed an incorporation survey.

The Mission Chamber of Commerce voted to send its delegates to the Township Chamber proceedings later this month with instructions to consider such a survey favorably.

The study was first advanced three weeks ago by LeRoy Broun before the Centerville group. In turn, Irvington and Niles approved it. Only Decoto so far has refused to act.

Broun told the Missionites his organization started looking for a solution to what he termed "four big Oakland real estate operators on the County Planning Commission who are making the decisions for this end of the county."

He stressed nothing will be done about incorporating the entire Township—or part of it as a city until facts are available. And he said he is seeking to find how much a survey by experts on government will cost.

Broun exhibited a letter from the Coro Foundation of San Francisco hinting its young political-science "interns" might perform the job for a nominal fee. Broun said he is forwarding the information on the size of the task so the foundation can quote a price.

"I think we should look to the future," agreed President Michael Overacker of the Mission group. "Then we'll be ready for incorporation when it comes."

Then Overacker added: "But I still think it's years away."

Broun said Centerville and the other towns want to know, for instance, how much they will save in light and gas bills if they incorporate, if fire insurance rates will fall, if the state will refund more road and liquor taxes to offset municipal taxes.

Broun said the cost of the survey can be borne on a pro-rata basis, with larger chambers making the biggest contribution.

Meantime, in Decoto, Chamber President Manuel Hidalgo explained his view of why Decotoans refused to approve the survey last week.

"We don't want to lay out money

CENTERVILLE GROUP ASKS ALTERNATE ROUTE FOR THORNTON APPROACH

Thornton Avenue homeowners saw a glimmer of hope today in alternate plans the Centerville Chamber of Commerce has for a feeder route for the north-south freeway.

The plans were disclosed Monday by a committee headed by Louis Cardoza. They would move the proposed Dumbarton feeder about one-quarter mile north of Thornton.

This would take it parallel to Thornton Avenue until it reaches Mayhew Landing Road, thence westward to the Dumbarton Highway... The six-lane feeder route would pass through orchard and pasture land principally, would avoid schools, and would leave residential Thornton Avenue untouched.

Cardoza's committee threshed out the alternate plan in conjunction with Eugene Manning, secretary-manager of the Township Chamber.

Manning pointed out the alternate route also will not destroy parts of Newark's business district, but advised conferring with the Newark chamber before submitting it to the County Planning Commission.

When members agreed, the proposal was made a motion by Dallas Paul, and was passed without dissent.

If Newark and the planners approve, a meeting will be sought with the State Division of Highways, agency which will construct the freeway and its approaches.

MYSTERY LIGHTS ON PEAK? SURE!

Spies?

Flying saucers?

Late-workers in Niles and Alvarado Wednesday night buzzed the sheriff's substation to get the answer.

The inquiring citizens had spotted flashing lights on Mission. Peak. And it wasn't the first time, either.

Several hours and a few miles later, the deputies had the information:

Friends of a Warm Springs glider pilot who was staying aloft to test night-flying conditions were signalling to him with their car headlights from the Mission Peak Road,

TRAILER COURT HEARING JUNE 25

A public hearing to determine whether a $50,000 trailer court shall be permitted at the mouth of Niles Canyon will be held June 25 before the Alameda County Planning Commission.

This was announced today as the commission disclosed it has received application to establish the court from E. C. Thomas, Niles steel company executive.

The hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the courthouse. Expected to be on hand are members of the Niles Women's Club, which has opposed the project as unsightly and unsuited to the site of the historic Vallejo flour mill.

The planing commission must pass on any trailer courts established within Alameda County. Individual members have indicated informally that they oppose the courts in main highways.

ICE-CREAM SOCIAL OPEN TO PUBLIC

An old fashioned Ice Cream Social open to the public will be held by the Youth of the Centerville Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, June 16th from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. for the purpose of raising funds to send members to summer conferences.

Conferences are held each summer in several conference grounds throughout the State for Juniors through adults. The conferences, a week in length, are for the purpose of fellowship, recreation, and spiritual growth. Most of the young people are hoping to attend this summer.

IRVINGTON SCHOOL BONDS VOTED BY WIDE MARGIN

Irvington voters this week approved a $258,000 bond issue by a margin of 202 to 32.

Balloting at the grammar school, the electors thus backed plans of the district's trustees either to:

1. Add six more classrooms and auxiliary rooms to the present schoolhouse, or

2. Start another school on some site better situated to care for new subdivisions now in the mill.

District Supt. Gus Robertson explains much hinges on what the subdividers do this summer. The trustees have decided to keep plans flexible until later in the year, he says, and to delay construction until then.

Enrollment at Irvington Elementary School is at the 300 mark, but Robertson estimates 470 children will be there by sometime next year. The new construction presumably will care for them by that time.

Bonds will be sold as needed to take care of present needs, Trustees E. M. Grimmer, Alfred Peixoto and John R. Gomes say.

NILES JUNK YARD DUMPED AGAIN

For the second time in six weeks, establishment of an auto-wrecking yard on the highway at Niles was turned down Wednesday by the County Planning Commission.

M. A. McDermott, jeweler and owner of the site, had persuaded the Board of Supervisors to refer his plea to the commission again.

Appearing in Oakland, McDermott charged "a small clique of the Niles Chamber of Commerce—one or two men" is blocking the yard.

"I eat lunch with the chamber," he complained, "And when the members are all there, nobody says a word against it."

But Commissioner George Dugan noted (1) the Niles civic group still is on record against the yard, and (2) the commission's policy is inflexibly against such enterprises on main highways.

Then the body voted unanimously to reject McDermott's petition once more.

CHERRY PICKLING NEARS AT NILES

Cherry - preserving operations are scheduled to start within a week or two at the Schuckl Cannery in Niles.

This word came today from Melvin Teeter, foreman in charge of the plant.

Teeter said no date for the work has been set, but added he thinks it should start "around the end of the month," depending on receipts of local cherries to be converted into cocktail maraschinos.

He estimated "about the same amount" will be processed as last year, or around 3000 barrels.

The Niles plant started receiving canning cherries Wednesday for its cannery in Sunnyvale.

Teeter said he does not believe Sunday's light rain, when .02 of an inch was recorded here, materially affected the local cherry crop.

ASK MUSEUM FOR FIRST FILM HERE

Will Niles, cradle of the California film industry, some day be a mecca for sentimental movie fans?

Yes, if Promoter Charles F. Riesner of Oakland has his way. Riesner this week addressed a letter to the Niles Chamber of Commerce, saying stories of the legendary Essanay Studio, Charlie Chaplin, Gloria Swanson, et al, were brought to his mind while driving this way en route to the Livermore Rodeo.

In his letter, Riesner asked Acting President Clifford K. Dennis why a museum commemorating Essanay and its stars could not be erected in Niles.

For the moment, Dennis had no suitable reply, but agreed to invite Riesner to address the organization one day soon, and to explain his program, if any.

FORGER IN NILES FLEES WITH $58

A bold forger returned to Niles Wednesday and started a major manhunt here.

The penman victimized a First Street merchant by passing a $58 check forged with the name of a local physician.

Sheriff's Lt. Joseph Sheean said the felon almost certainly is Walter Demeter, most-wanted bad-check artist in the West.

Suspecting his departed customer, the merchant first phoned the doctor, found the check was forged, then called the sheriff's office. Sheean sent five patrol cars on a search for the check-passer and alerted authorities in nearby towns. The suspect had not been arrested at a late hour.

Demeter, who has never been arrested and who poses as a workman who has been paid for painting or carpentry by local persons, has a criminal record seven feet long. He was last reported here on May 7, when he victimized seven merchants. The sheriff's substation issued a description of his person and habits to all local businessmen May 15.

HAIRCUTS, WAGES LOW IN BRITAIN

Haircuts are three for a dollar in Britain, a brunette exchange teacher advised the Niles Rotary Club last week.

Not that the Rotarians looked shaggy, assured Miss Mary Gregory, now of Hayward, but prices are that low in the Old Country.

Wages, however, are low too, averaging $18 a week, she said.

Miss Gregory advised travelers to visit England's pubs, or taverns—so-called workingmen's clubs.

"That's where you'll see the real England," she explained.

Other observations by the young educator:

1. Everyone in America seems quite happy—a contrast to the austerity-ridden English.

2. San Francisco women are smartest-dressed in the world.

3. If the British spent the money they use for parades and pageants on housing and schools, they could raise their standard of living.

Miss Gregory told the annual Ladies Day luncheon in the International Kitchen that the speech was her 93rd since coming here last year.

Decoto Cement Plant Gets Planners' Okeh

Despite impassioned protests from parents and property-owners in Decoto and Hillview Crest, the County Planning Commission Wednesday refused to oust the Robert Walker Ready-Mix Cement Company from the plant it is constructing near a Decoto elementary school.

William Davis, a Decoto school trustee, appeared before the commission in Oakland to contend the plant will blow dust over the neighborhood and create a noisy nuisance and a traffic hazard.

One Hillview mother, Mrs. Edward J. Haven, a trained nurse, warned it may lead to respiratory troubles, even lung cancer, for youngsters at the Barnard School.

But the commission was not convinced. Commissioner Fred Melvin pointed out the plant conforms to the definition of "light industry" and is in a light-industrial zone.

In an abrupt about-face, Decoto's Chamber of Commerce Monday night rescinded a protest against the $100,000 concrete plant. across from the Barnard School.

Withdrawal of the protest came in secret balloting at a special meeting called by President Manuel Hidalgo.

Hidalgo announced the vote was 31 to 10 to withdraw a protest to the Planning Commission and other agencies made last week at the urging of School Trustee Davis.

"We were sort of trapped into the protest," Hidalgo explained to a Register reporter. "I felt the majority of our members weren't in favor of it."

Davis appeared at this week's meeting with several supporters

Walker, a Castro Valley industrialist, appeared too, and pointed out (1) that the site has long been zoned for light industry, and (2) that he is providing blowers and locating much of the plant below ground level to minimize noise and dust.

Peter Lojo, Hillview attorney and spokesman for some 100 parents who signed the protest, told the commission the plant is a traffic hazard.

But Walker's attorney countered that Whipple Road is a main artery anyway, and Walker sprang somewhat of a surprise with hints that

1. A huge concrete pipe factory is soon to be erected further down the road, near the present U. S. Pipe and Foundry plant, and

2. A truck assembly plant is scheduled to be built on land between the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific Railroad tracks.

Confirmation of these rumors was not immediately available.

Lewis Musick, Decoto school superintendent, appeared to explain the system is not officially opposing the Walker plant, but merely wants an opinion from the commission.

After nearly three hours of argument, the commissioners voted unanimously to reject the protests.

NEWARK MAY VOTE ON 25-CENT TAX FOR RECREATION

Committeemen for the proposed Newark Recreation District last week decided to call an election to see if they can impose a 25-cent tax.

The program will be presented to residents of Newark as a whole at a public session July 31, according to Chairman William Hildebrand.

At last week's meeting in the Grammar School, which was attended by 35 persons, Hildebrand estimated $12,500 could be raised by such a tax, which is permitted under present laws.

Newarkers have long felt their town is undeveloped from the standpoint of recreation facilities for both youngsters and grownups.

Hildebrand explained three elected trustees would administer such a district.

He was assisted by Miss Gladys Snyder, field representative of the State Department of Recreation, who agreed to attend the July meeting to answer questions from the audience.

She added the State will assist in an advisory capacity, but not financially.

Hildebrand also announced several committees have been formed to further work on the plan.

Mrs. Earl Willburn is chairman of the committee to outline a tentative program of activities. Assisting here are: Mrs. M. E. Etchison, Mrs. Ronald Andrus, Mrs. Gene Carroll, and Harold Wright.

The budget committee consists of: Mrs. Marty Sammon, Mrs. E. E. Lewallen, and Eugene Carroll.

The public relations committee included: William Hildebrand, Mrs. B. Brake, Mrs. James Collins, Jack MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Phippen, J. C. Kennedy, Mrs. Dave Rice, and George Latham.

'GUESS WHO' MAN ONCE A SEAMAN

What was the clue in last week's "Guess Who" personality sketch that identified H. Lowell Scott for you? The fact that he was born in South Africa?

Our "mystery" man this week would be identified immediately if we mentioned what business he is in, so, in spite of the fact that his whole life centers around this business, we'll avoid telling you what it is, just so the element of guessing can be maintained.

If you CAN'T guess, turn the pages of this issue, and you will find the answer.

He was born in a very large valley town.

He went to school in this town, and continued his education at the Thacher School in the Ojai Valley. His higher education was obtained at two universities—Cornell and the University of California.

He because associated in business with his father, here in Niles, after his university training was completed.

He stayed with his father a few months, then went to Riverton, New Jersey, to learn different phases of the business. He stayed there a year, then returned to Niles to again become associated with his father. That summer he traveled 25,000 miles, all over the United States, calling on firms that were doing business with his father.

In 1923 he motored to New York with a group of boys and did it the hard way, sleeping in sleeping bags enroute.

In 1924 he had another interesting trip, traveling as a seaman

NEW YOUNGSTERS SPUR PLANS FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

A bond issue to build classrooms and keep abreast of expected population gains will be presented to the public this fall by trustees of Washington Union High School.

This was informally decided last week by high school trustees headed by S. G. Scott.

The hint came at a meeting after A. E. Alameda and Michael Overacker asked for a scrip sale to finance a swimming pool at the school.

But the trustees explained the pool will cost almost $100,000, since it must be partially-enclosed for all-year swimming, making it an endless task to pay off the scrip. Scrip was sold in 1947 for football field lights—and all but $3,500 of the original $10,000 has been amortized.

Then the board adopted a resolution promising to "attempt to embody the swimming pool in the total building plan."

Though members could not be specific at such an early date, a spokesman said tentative plans for near-future building include:

1. More classrooms.
2. A new agriculture building.
3. A new industrial-arts building.

"The school district has long been aware of the terrific increase in elementary school enrolment," this spokesman continued. "Last December there were 3247 pupils in our nine grammar schools, and this figure is even larger today.

"Every day increasing population in the Township brings new crops of 'war babies' who are entering the first two or three grades now. And the big 'wave' of extra students is in the sixth grade right now and will be in high school within two years."

The district has not one penny of bonded indebtedness, but could raise a maximum of $1,300,000 by bonding its $29,000,000 assessed tax valuation.

The oldest adobe structure now standing in San Francisco is Mission Dolores, which dates from 1782.

NEWARK BANK NEWS

One Bay Area chain bank is so interested in establishing a branch at Newark that it is polling its directors on the issue this week.

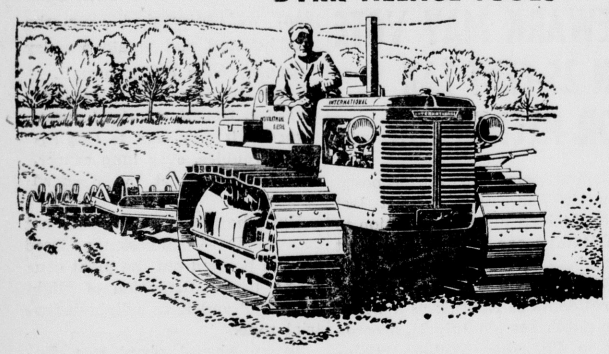

This news came today from Paul Gygax, head of a Newark committee which conducted a survey to see if the bank would be patronized.

More than 625 persons said they would deposit upwards of $200,000, the survey disclosed. Gygax expects to hear from the unnamed bank early next week.

There are 215 chapters of Future Farmers of America.

FEW YOUNGSTERS VACCINATED, REPORT

Citizen committees studying youth problems in Washington Township have uncovered some startling facts, according to a report made this week by a deputy county probation officer.

Hrayr Terzian told the Mission San Jose Chamber of Commerce:

1. Only 40 percent of the region's children are immunized against infectious disease.

2. People don't know where to go for welfare assistance.

3. The county health department is shy one-third of its authorized health nurses.

4. There is no family-counseling service nearer than Oakland.

Terzian said these and other problems were discovered by citizens' committees working with the County Probation Office in a survey of this area.

He explained the survey is designed to prevent juvenile delinquency in the rapidly-growing Township such as plagued San Lorenzo during the World War II population boom.

Complete findings of the survey are slated for release this fall.

DECOTO TEACHER, MISS GEORGE, DIES

Funeral services were held yesterday in Chapel of the Palms for Miss Viola W. George, member of a pioneer Decoto family and longtime teacher in local schols.

Miss George died Sunday of a heart attack in the home in which She was the daughter of the late she was born at 12th and F streets. Joseph and Mary George who settled in Decoto more than 60 years ago.

Miss George graduated from San Jose State Teachers College and taught at Alviso District School and the old Lincoln School in Newark. Recently she has been with schools in Alameda.

She was a member of the San Jose State Alumni Assn., the Women's City Club of Oakland, the National Congress of P-TA, and the Holy Rosary Guild of Decoto Catholic Church.

Survivors include four cousins: rence George of Manteca, Mrs. Albert George of San Jose, Law-Margaret Pereira of Santa Clara, Mrs. Rose Black of Oakland, and two uncles, Antone and Manuel George in the Azores Islands.

MISSION CHAMBER PICKS UP YOUTH SUGGESTIONS

Mission San Jose's senior Chamber of Commerce this week reported progress on community improvements suggested last month by 'teen-age juniors.

Herman Madeiros reported:

1. Highway patrolmen are policing Vallejo Street to keep cars from blocking the sidewalks.

2. A speed limit sign on Irvington Road can be installed by the county, though a town-name sign will have to be purchased.

3. Taxpayers will have to form a district to get more street lights. (Attorney Leroy Broun said Supervisor Chester Stanley urges "a consolidated utility district for the Township" instead.)

Maurice Marks outlined workings of the Irvington Youth Center and indicated a local one might be able to get Community Chest support too.

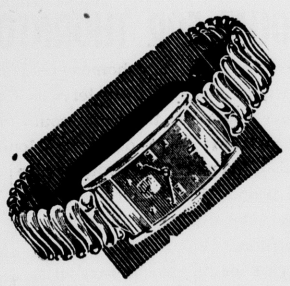

Chamber President Michael Overacker promised to name a committee to confer with the 'teenagers on recreation and other issues.

The listed items—plus several more—had been broached by the youngsters at a session last month.

California's 1951 copper production was valued at over $400,000.

HUSKY BATSMEN JOIN FOR SUMMER PLAY; TEAGUE, NIEVES CHOSEN ALL-S.C.V.A.L.

By STUART NIXON

Coach Irv Hird's 1952 Husky baserunners, practically intact, will play ball together during summer vacation for fun and experience.

Coach Hird made the announcement today. He said the first game will be played Sunday in Santa Cruz against a high school aggregation from that city.

"The boys decided they wanted to stick together for the summer," Hird explained. "They're even furnishing their own expenses and transportation."

He added he is volunteering his services to coach the club.

Leading the list of W.U.H.S. players who will take part in the twice or three-times-a-month schedule are Ken Teague and Tony Nieves, regular Husky first and second basemen, who were selected last week as All-Santa Clara Valley Athletic League choices in their positions.

Also on the list are Vern Perry and Johnny Chacon, who received honorable SCVAL mention in fielding and catching spots.

Others include Ed Romero, Raul Orozco, Dick Arington, Frank Murakami, and a pair of pitchers, Bob Hird, the coach's son, and Bob Lunsford. They will get help from Ed King, Allan Olk and Sam Ramirez.

"Summer baseball will keep the boys in shape and give them needed experience," rejoiced the coach.

Name of the new organization has not yet been picked.

San Francisco Bay is one of the few places in the world where common salt is recovered from sea water on a large scale by solar evaporation.

SCVAL TO KEEP MAY GRID DRILL

Washington High proposals to drop curtailed spring grid practice altogether met with a cool reception from Santa Clara Valley Athletic League coaches, it was reported here this week.

The idea was brought up at a SCVAL meeting in Saratoga last week by Husky Coaches Jud Taylor and Irv Hird.

Taylor and Hird said they wanted to drop the practice:

1. Because youngsters get little value from working out in sneakers and shorts, as prescribed by SCVAL regulations.

2. Because coaches cannot get a line on fall prospects in the five-day period allocated and under conditions of no-contest practice.

"But," said Hird, "about half of the coaches present wanted to keep it. The rest didn't. But as long as everybody wasn't in favor of dropping spring practice, I guess it'll be around next year."

Orchardists Meet

The time and amount of water to apply to an orchard was the topic of discussion at a meeting of apricot growers on the Roy Clark ranch on Driscoll Road near Irvington on Friday, May 23.

Some of the points brought out by the growers attending were that tight soils held water longer than more sandy soils and that large trees in full leaf at this season will take much more water from the soil, as much as 200 gallons per day by some large trees on hot days, than smaller trees. If soils will take water rapidly and for a considerable period of time (six to ten hours) it may be an indication that the soil is becoming dry enough to limit root growth.

But, if the soil is moist and forms a wet soft ball, a week or so may elapse before the tree is in need of irrigation. Trees transpire and remove more water from the soil during warm dry days than during days that cool and the relative humidity is above 55 percent. Hence the rate of water removal from the root area of a tree will vary with the weather to some degree.

Trees should never be allowed to reach a wilting level during the time a crop is being produced. And after the crop has been harvested, the fruit tree should have sufficient moisture to insure the setting on of fruit and leaf buds for the next year's crop. These buds develop during the latter part of the season after the crop has been harvested. Sufficient terminal growth of branches indicate that there is sufficient moisture and nutrition in the soil for the current seasonal growth.

Fewer inches of water are necessary if the soil is rather moist, than if the soil is dry to a considerable depth of two feet or more, according to Farm Advisor John Peterson.

BEARCATS RISE ABOVE BOOTS TO BEAT CHAPEL, 9-8

By TONY ROGERS

Centerville's Bearcats tried their hardest to throw away a ball game last Sunday, but finally won it the hard way, 9 to 8, against Chapel of the Oaks, Oakland.

Playing on Washington High field, the butterfingered Bearcats pulled no less than nine official boots before they pushed over a run in the 12th frame to snap an 8-8 deadlock.

The 'Cats held a comfortable 8-to-4 lead going into the ninth inning of a loosely-played contest. Then the roof caved in on Pitcher Harold Belsher.

Before Fireman Stan Roderick could relieve Belsher, he had yielded a walk, two doubles and a triple. Combined with a two-base error by Belsher's teammates, this allowed four Oakland runs to cross fourth base.

Up to then, Belsher had fanned 13, though he walked four and permitted nine hits. Roderick went the route and gave up only a single hit until his compadres won the thing.

In the salvaging twelfth, Don Lemos and Lawrence Fernandez walked, then Joe Bettencourt attempted to sacrifice and forced Lemos at third. Freitas, the Bearcat shortstop, dumped a single into short center to load the bags. The Oak Pitcher, Stafford, abandoned control at this point and walked Don Milton, forcing Fernandez with the winning tally.

The Bearcats play a San Francisco Naval Shipyards nine Sunday at 2:30 p.m. on the Washington High diamond.

NIGHT SOFTBALL STARTS MONDAY

Softball under the stars starts Monday night on Washington High diamond in the opening game of a six-team league.

The 7:30 p.m. contest pits Olwell Berry Farm of Mission San Jose against U. S. Pipe and Foundry of Decoto.

Commissioner Pete Nunes announced admission is free, a departure from previous years' play.

Wednesday night, American Forge meets Irvington VFW, while next Friday two Centervill clubs, Kleine's and L & V, stage their opening battle.

All games start at 7:30 p.m., Nunes said.

WOMEN INVITED TO CIVIC MEETING

Mrs. Calvin Townsend, a representative of the San Jose League of Women Voters, will be the guest speaker at a women's organizational meeting at Washington Union High School Friday, June 20, at 10 a.m.

The purpose of the meeting will be to interest women of the community in local civic affairs, and to enlighten them on how government procedures affect each individual.

Mrs. Townsend will make suggestions on organization structure.

Women of the township are not only invited but are urged to attend the meeting, acording to Mrs. G. M. Dufton of Pleasanton, of the arrangements committee.

Mrs. Harold Korell of Niles, temporary publicity chairman, emphasized the need of such a women's group in this area, "We hope to have enough women present at the meeting to warrant making it a permanent organization. An apropriate name for the group will be selected at that time."

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS WILL SPONSOR 'BUSTERS'

The Century Lodge of the Knights of Pythias voted unanimously to sponsor the Newark Model Busters at their last regular meeting. The sponsorship will mainly entail the support of a model aeroplane meet hosted by the Model Busters sometime next year.

In accordance with the Pythian Youth program, two boys from Newark are to leave July 1st for a completely expense free, two weeks vacation at the Pythian Youth Camp in Sequoia National Park. Two girls will also be the guests of the Lodge for a two weeks session at the camp sometime this summer. This is the second year that youngsters have been sent to camp by the Century Lodge.

NEW PHONE DIRECTORY SET FOR SEPTEMBER

Compilation of the September 1952 issue of the Alameda County telephone directory, which includes listings for Hayward subscribers, started this week, according to S. D. Smith, Pacific Telephone manager.

Hayward customers will receive 20,750 of the new directories, a gain of 1,950 over last year's distribution. Another 1000 new subscribers are located in Washington Township and the Livermore-Pleasanton area.

Representatives of the telephone company will be working throughout this area until July 30, consulting with business firms on their directory requirements in the forthcoming issue. The directory is scheduled for issue in September.

The capable hands of telephone operators are ready to put your calls through—when and where you want.

No one can guess the importance of the calls which will flow through the cable these linemen are installing.

When trouble strikes, telephone men get going fast to keep your telephone always at your service.

Making it pleasant for you to do business with us is the aim of our business office people who serve you.

Their work keeps our nation united

75,000 Pacific Telephone people are helping make us a nation of neighbors

Perhaps never before has every job done by the men and women on the telephone team been so important to our country. In countless ways, our nation is using the telephone to get things done faster—in defense plants, among our armed forces, on the everyday jobs of all Americans. One of the reasons why we can outproduce any other country is that we have more telephone service, and better telephone service. This service would be impossible without the skill and devotion of the people who work to provide it.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

In 1951, our total wage costs came to more than a quarter of a billion dollars—nearly four times that of ten years ago. Yet in spite of higher wages, higher taxes, higher costs of everything we need to provide service, we've kept telephone rates one of the best buys in your budget today.

Re-routing Long Distance circuits is one of the many interesting telephone jobs for women . . . 48,000 women in the West. And that they like their jobs is demonstrated by the length of time they have stayed in telephone work—longer than seven years, on the average. Among telephone men, the average length of service is now nearly twelve years. Together, telephone men and women account for more than two-thirds of our total operating expenses (in wages, benefits and provision for service pensions). We do all we can to make telephone jobs good jobs . . . the kind that attract and keep the capable people so important to good telephone service.

on a freighter from San Francisco, via the Panama Canal, to Boston. When he returned to San Francisco he reported to the port captain that treatment given the seamen would result in serious trouble. His prediction was well founded. A year later Harry Bridges stepped into the picture.

For six months he worked in the main office of the Mercantile Trust Company in San Francisco, which later became the American Trust.

He has traveled extensively. In 1912 his family took him on a trip to Europe. He has traveled across the continent many times, and has been to Hawaii. It was in Hawaii that he was married, to a girl he had met in San Francisco.

His closest scrape with death came in a train wreck in Iowa in 1929. Some of the passengers were killed, many injured. He escaped without injury.

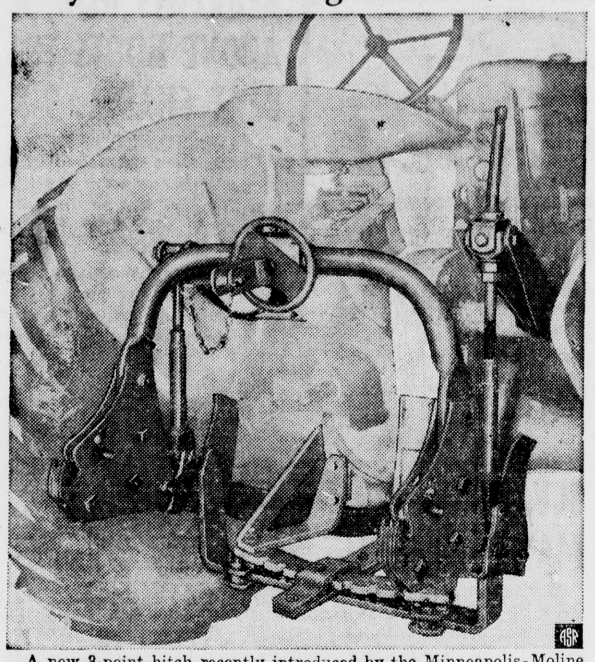

His recreation comes in riding horseback riding, fishing and hunting. He has written several factual articles for newspapers and magazines.

Sixty Second Hitching of Tractor Tools

A new 3-point hitch recently introduced by the Minneapolis-Moline Co. makes changing of rear mounted tractor tools quicker and easier. Called the Hitchor, it is an extremely flexible hydraulic system for a tractor of 2-plow size and can be adapted to control pull-behind as well as front and rear mounted tools. Installation of the hitch does not interfere with the drawbar and is easy to reach, simple to operate. The operator merely adjusts the lower self-locking hitch points to the same height as the linking points on the implement, then couples them by backing the tractor. A pin is then inserted in the upper hitch point which has an easy turning wheel for length adjustment. This allows easy alignment on uneven ground and also permits accurate adjustment of operating angle of the implements.

Remarkably close mounting obtained with the MM Hitchor gives positive depth control and a minimum farming radius for shortest head land and working into fenced field corners.

NEWARK TROOP TAKES ALL THE PRIZES

Newark Boy Scout Troop No. 1 took all three prizes in a recent ticket sales campaign for the Oakland Area Scout-O-Rama. Scouts from Murray and Washington Townships participated in the event, held by the Twin Valley District. Del Wilburn was awarded first prize for having sold the greatest number of tickets. He received a complete Boy Scout uniform from the Oakland Area Council B.S.A. for his efforts. Second prize winner was Orin Olk, who was awarded a trail tent. Michael Collins received the third prize, an air mattress. This was quite an honor for the boys, who worked hard and deserve much praise for their efforts.

The troop was awarded another prize for taking first place in the recent Scout week. During this period they pitched camp, cooked, and slept in the business section of town as a demonstration of scout troop work. This award was $15 added to their credit at scout headquarters. The competition was with the local troops in the township. They also received two patrol camp kits.

The advisor and leader of this active troop, along with the committeemen, arranged for a party for the boys last Monday night when the awards were presented.

Centerville Family Leaving for Europe

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kirkish and daughter, Annette, of Centerville are the envy of their friends since they have made known the fact that they are leaving for Europe June 20. They will fly to Paris and will take a conducted tour of France, Holland, Switzerland, and Italy with English-speaking guides, then will fly from Rome to Beirut, Lebanon, to visit relatives.

Lebanon is the birthplace of both Mr. and Mrs. Kirkish, but Mrs. Kirkish hasn't seen her mother for 40 years and is naturally looking forward to the reunion with a great deal of pleasure.

On their return journey they will stop in New York to do some buying.

Special Date

When Joseph Perry took Patricia Guerra to dinner at the Lake Merritt Hotel last Saturday night, she didn't know that it would be a date with special memories; for before the evening was over he had placed a diamond ring on her finger.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guerra of Decoto. Joseph is the son of Mrs. Rita Perry of the Alviso district.

Both young people are graduates of Washington High. She is employed at the California Nursery, and he at the Rheem Company in Newark.

They are planning a fall wedding.

The drug was used to prevent infection. Looking on is Dr. C. R. Schroeder, of Lederle Laboratories, former veterinarian to the San Diego Zoo and the Bronx Zoo.

Home from the Front

It's good news this week for the Mayock family. Mrs. Ann Mayock has had word from her son, Corporal Stoney Mayock, that he should be in this country by June 20. He has had a year in Korea, part of which time was spent in a hospital recovering from a wound. He returned to the front lines, however, and has seen all he wants to of war for a while, and writes eagerly of his anticipated reunion with his family.

To Milwaukee

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stollenwerk and two children of Mt. Vernon Avenue, Centerville, are leaving this week for Milwaukee to visit relatives. They plan to be gone for three weeks.

Birthday Dinner

Rebecca Lee D'Amario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln D'Amario of Mt. Vernon Avenue, celebrated her first birthday Wednesday by being the guest of honor at a dinner party given by her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garcia.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Day, and Mr. and Mrs. D'Amario.

From New York

Mrs. Nathaniel Stokely Rich of New York city is planning on spending a few days with her niece, Mrs. Keneth Berg, of Centerville.

Wouldn't Leave Niles

Mrs. O. E. Walpert of Niles has sold her home on Second and G streets, and her many friends here are asking the obvious question, "Are you moving away?" to which she replies emphatically, "I should say not. I wouldn't live anywhere else but in Niles."

She is planning to move into one of the Clarence Cranes' new triplexes, now under construction on the property adjacent to Dr. Grau's office on First Street.

Return to Santa Barbara

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Rathbone and children will be returning to their Santa Barbara home this weekend, after a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Solon. They came up to see Judy Garland in San Francisco, and for "some of mother's good cooking."

In the Hospital

Mr. George Barker of Niles, recovering at Fairmont Hospital from a relapse, is recuperating as well as can be expected, according to friends who have visited him there. Now 86 years old, he still maintains an active interest in curent events and is spending much of his time reading, while he is confined in the hospital.

Honeymooners Here

Guests this week at the home of Mrs. Irene Henderson of Niles were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Aggas, who stopped off at Niles enroute home to El Monte after a honeymoon in New York. Mrs. Aggas is the former Malvina Morow.

To Prescott

Mrs. Al Juhl and Mrs. T. Tothero left this week for a leisurely trip to Prescott, Arizona. They plan to be gone for two weeks.

At the Marie Antoinette

The Marie Antoinette in Menlo Park was the scene of a gala luncheon and bridge party given last Friday by three local hostesses—Mmes. Charles Wauhab, E. E. Manning, and Loren Marriott. Thirty-two guests were present.

To Yosemite

Barring unforeseen circumstances, Mr. and Mrs. Ed O'Mara and daughters of Newark will leave Sunday for Yosemite to vacation for a few days.

Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. Edward O'Mara was hostess at a luncheon given at her home last Tuesday. Those attending were Mmes. Tom Robbins, Maurice Marks, Clifford Johnson, Art Silva, Walter Avilla, J. King, Frank Fields and Howard Overacker.

In Lieu of Fish

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Duffey of Niles have returned home after a ten-day fishing trip. "No fish," said Mel, "the water was too high."

But more interesting than fish was a duck they brought back—a duck with a Mona Lisa smile on its face, which Mel is displaying in his antique shop. It isn't a real duck, but a twisted piece of driftwood that would give any decoy some stiff competition.

Luck at Reno

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Feleciano of Irvington, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dutra of Mission San Jose had phenomenal luck on their last week-end's jaunt to Reno. Mr. Feleciano hit the jack-pot eight times, Mrs. Feleciano twice, Mr. Dutra three times, and Mrs. Dutra eight times!

Mrs. Clifford Johnson was hostess to members of the Decoto Discussion Group last Wednesday at her beautiful new home in Atherton. Luncheon was served at noon.

Mrs. Jean King of Hillview Crest led a most interesting meeting on Russias. She reviewed "These are the Russians" by Richard E. Lauterback, and the discussion that followed covered everything from Russia's great effort in World War II to religion vs. communism. As one member put it, "Russia is an inexhausible subject."

The group will vacation during July and August. The next meeting will be in September.

Win Rodeo Award

The three Ferreira sisters of Niles—Barbara, Kathleen and Linda—daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Art Ferreira, won second place in the best-dressed-junior-cowgirl event at the Livermore Rodeo last weekend. All of them riding on the one horse (26 year old 'Leader'), they made a colorful picture as they rode past the grand-stands. This makes the second consecutive year that the girls—ages nine, six, and four—have won an award at the Rodeo.

At Display Show

Mr. and Mrs. John Brahmst spent Sunday afternoon in San Francisco at the "open house" of the M. Seller company, who were displaying houshold wares for Christmas sales.

The Brahmsts were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bruner.

Restaurant Fire

Fire of undetermined origin damaged an upstairs bedroom at the International Kitchen on Fremont Road yesterday afternoon.

Downstairs diners continued their meals uninterrupted while Niles firemen extinguished the blaze. Damage had not been estimated at a late hour.

From Long Beach

Visitors recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moser of Niles were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tinder and son, LeRoy, of Long Beach.

On Trail Ride

Allen Starr of Mission San Jose is on a five-day trail ride this week with the Sonoma Trailriders Association.

While he is away, Mrs. Starr is staying with friends in San Francisco.

At Yosemite

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Meeker of Niles took a trip to Yosemite recently with friends from Pleasanton. They reported the weather beautiful, the falls magnificent.

WHY OPPOSE INFORMATION?

Says Maitland Henry, Livermore editor, about current efforts to take a full look at "home rule" for Washington Township:

"There can be nothing but commendation for those who recognize their problems and do something about them, rather than sit by and find fault with their present form of government."

Along this line of thinking, it is hard to understand why Decoto spokesmen declined to help find out what township-wide incorporation will cost, and what its advantages and disadvantages will be.

No layman can form an opinion worth tuppence on such a complex subject. It takes thorough study by experts trained in modern municipal government. Such a study is being sought by those who sparked the "home rule" movement. If the study is well made, from an objective point of view, valuable data will be on hand for all to see.

Then if incorporation of the township seems too costly, or unfair to some area, or if some better method suggests itself, incorporation can be dropped, or limited, or put aside in favor of a substitute. Whatever happens, whatever plan is adopted, the voters will have the final word on what they want. This is democracy, remember.

Maybe the study will show that Decoto would get the lion's share of benefits. Surely Decoto has its problems: sewage and streets-and-sidewalks, to mention only two. Maybe these problems could be solved for Decoto easier and cheaper on a share basis with other local towns.

The point is, who can tell? Who can say no, without all the facts? Arbitrary refusal to inquire is a termite in the foundation of progress. For their own sake, Decoto's businessmen ought to re-examine their stand.

IT'S HERE!

An event of surpassing importance to this region is taking place today a scant five miles to our north. This is the opening of a 4.2-mile section of the Eastshore Freeway between 98th Avenue and Lewelling Boulevard in San Lorenzo. No longer will Oakland-bound motorists tack like distressed sailboats along the detours and byways of San Leandro. Instead they can hop aboard the $3,000,000 freeway link just past San Lorenzo Creek and whiz carefree to their destination.

Aside from the convenience involved, the new link serves to remind dwellers in the Sunny End of the County how close we are coming to life as a suburb of a huge city. In a matter of months, the freeway will bring traffic to Mt. Eden, at the Township's edge. Already subdividers have recognized that fact and are laying out homesites for city workers who are a cinch to follow the concrete to easier living around Centerville or one of our other attractive towns.

This means a revolutionary change in life for those who already inhabit our Township. How painful will the change be? This depends largely on how well plans are laid to cope with it.

One example lies close at hand. The County Probation Department is fearful that huge gobs of population may upset Washington Township as they did towns to the north during the war. Therefore the department has enlisted citizen help to survey needs here in preventing juvenile delinquency. Local men and women are serving, and their findings will be made public soon.

In the field of education, utilities, new business construction, and a dozen sociological categories, the same attention is urgently needed. Just how urgently, is brought home by the upthrust head of the Freeway at San Lorenzo. With a flood on our doorsteps, every civic agency and every citizen must think in terms of dams, channels and powerhouses.

DAD'S DINNER AT NEWARK CHURCH

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Newark Assembly, Pastor Riley Kaufman will bring a special message dedicated to the spirit of the Month of June, titled, "Love, Honor and Obey." In the Sunday School session at 9:45 a.m., Superintendent Art Ruskofsky will announce the award the Newark School receives for winning the recent three-church attendance contest.

Saturday night, June 11, on the eve of Father's Day, a "Dad's Dinner" is to be featured for the men of the Newark Assembly and their friends. The place is the P. G. and E. Clubhouse at the Newark Substation and the time is 6:30.

Encouragement for the Future Farmers

CHICAGO, ILL.—Good progress is being made to increase the operating budget of the Future Farmers of America, largest farm boy organization in the world. Here, Roger M. Kyes (right), Chairman of the Sponsoring Committee of the FFA Foundation and vice president of General Motors, presents checks totaling $25,350 to Dr. W. T. Spanton, national FFA advisor, as a starter for the 1953 FFA budget. Companies in business and industry donate the money, which will go into cash awards for the farm boys in various FFA contests throughout the U. S., Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

"How can small firms hold their own with a big company like you?"

Men who run small businesses have said such things as: "Some people think we're being frozen out. I'm doing well, but what about others? How can small firms hold their own with a big company like you?"

You can see the answer for yourself when you get a clear picture of the way business firms depend upon one another. Even a big, integrated company can't stand alone.

Our company is a number of parts that fit together like pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. At the center of things, we're refiners. Then to be sure of a supply of crude oil, we drill wells of our own. And to keep up the flow into our refineries and out again, we provide tankers, pipelines and trucks, and distributing organizations. But the territory is broad, the needs many.

Suppliers, competitors and customers—most of them small firms—are needed all around us. Other producers supply over 40% of the crude we need. And we buy thousands of other things, from pipe to paper clips—last year, more than $110,000,000 worth of goods and services from some 10,000 suppliers in the West alone.

There are many small refiners competing with us. In every field, there are distributors selling either our products for us or competitive lines. For example, here in the West—independent service stations selling our gasoline outnumber Company-owned stations about six to one ... and stations selling other brands outnumber our own about 29 to one.

These small firms "hold their own" very well indeed; and through serving well, many of them will grow big. Standard goes right on working to gain new business—competing for your patronage by increasing efficiency of operation, improving products, keeping prices down. But it's clear that a vast number of small firms, too, always will be needed to complete the picture.

WATER EVERYWHERE

Dear Vivian,

Thank you for mentioning the subject of water in your column "Thinking Things Over" on June 6.

We, in the profession, are always grateful for any reference to the importance of water service in modern living. It is our belief that in no other commodity does the consumer receive so much, of a product so vitally needed, at so little cost as good water service.

We would be glad to welcome you to our family of customers and assure you we would do everything within our power to provide you with good, dependable water service in any quantity you might require.

Very truly yours,
CITIZENS UTILITIES CO. OF CALIFORNIA
C. K. Dennis, Manager

I am flattered. Mr. Dennis wants to provide me with DEPENDABLE water service, IN ANY QUANTITY I MIGHT REQUIRE.

No more brushing my teeth in the middle of the night. No more getting up at three a.m. to water the garden. Wonderful!

Of course right now I have FREE water—what there is of it—under the water rights of the Ellsworth t[illegible]

I wonder if Mr. Dennis is willing to give me all this deluge of water on the same basis.

I think this would be most generous of him, don't you?

There is still the Alameda County Water District to consider, however. They might possibly make me even a BETTER offer. They might consider throwing in some kind of a bonus to get an additional water user.

I said they MIGHT.

MECHANICAL VICE

I don't know how other women feel about it, but the most baffling mechanical device I come in contact with is the clasp on shoulder-straps.

The linotype machine, used here at the newspaper, complicated as it is, holds no more mysteries for me than does the shoulder-strap clasp. For years I have been trying to master the technique of it. But it has completely outwitted me.

To lilustrate. Take a nice new shoulder-strap—on anything that requires shoulder-straps — and start adjusting it. What happens?

I'll tell you what happens. The shoulder-strap (1) comes out of the little slot. If this happens you are sunk. Just try putting it back in the little slot again. Or, if it doesn't come out of the little slot it (2) comes through the whole clasp completely and you are left with a dangling shoulder-strap that has one end attached to absolutely nothing. It has become completely separated from the garment, and there is apparently no hope of bringing the two back together again.

Or, if this crisis doesn't occur it may be that (3) you pull the wrong way and the shoulder-strap grips you like a vise, and you get panicky and wonder if your insurance policy covers suicide by shoulder-straps.

In any event, I'm quite certain that a man must have invented this diabolical contraption. And right now I am working on a promotional campaign to have these same clasps put on men's garments. It would serve them right.

WHAT IS IT?

A friend and I went into a local restaurant this week. We each ordered an abalone sandwich—we thought. When the sandwich came, it tasted like abalone, it looked like abalone, and we sprinkled lemon juice generously over it as though it WERE abalone.

Yet when the waitress brought us our checks, she charged us for veal cutlet sandwiches.

I had never heard of veal cutlet sandwiches, but I am an honest woman and when I saw that the price for a veal cutlet sandwich was less than that of an abalone sandwich, I called it to the waitress' attention.

"But it WAS a veal cutlet sandwich," she stoutly affirmed. "That's what you ordered. A veal cutlet sandwich is just as tender as an abalone sandwich," she went on, "you really can't tell the difference."

"But I sprinkled lemon juice on it!" I exclaimed. "I don't like lemon juice on veal. Anyhow, I don't like veal."

"But you thought it was abalone," countered the waitress. "You see, you can't tell the difference."

It seemed that she had a point there, so I subsided.

The manager then came up, and the situation was explained to her. They all—the manager, the waitress, and other interested spectators of this little drama—went into a huddle with the cook. Had he made veal cutlet sandwiches, or had he made abalone sandwiches?

He gave the matter considerable thought, then decided he'd made abalone sandwiches.

So we paid the extra price and went out, leaving the waitress baffled, the manager bewildered, the cook befuddled, and ourselves bewitched. For actually, at that point, if anybody had asked us what veal is, we would have replied, "You pry it off the rocks with an iron bar at low tide."

SEWAGE PROBLEMS

The Washington Township Chamber of Commerce meets Wednesday with consideration of local industrial and residential sewage problems high on the organization's agenda.

CAN M-I SEWERS TAKE NEW TRACTS!

Concerned over ability of their sanitary district to care for new subdivisions now building in Mission San Jose, local residents this week called for a survey of sanitary facilities.

Chamber of Commerce President Michael Overacker named John Amaral, Herman Madeiros and Frank Vargas to report in September on the capacity of the Irvington-Mission Sanitary District.

"They're already talking about Warm Springs joining it," Overacker warned, "And still we don't know if the district can handle another 100 homes or not."

By LEO BOHANNON

The tremendous impact of television upon our social activities cannot be grasped all of a sudden; but if we stop and think we become gradually aware of certain trends... For example, strange as it may seem, there's a strong bond between your modern TV set sitting comfortably in your living room and the horse and buggy days!

In those days people spent a lot of time at home. Shucks, there wasn't much of anything to do but go to an occasional square dance or on a picnic. But then came the movies and night baseball and bingo palaces and the theater and we started going out evenings. It was an era of games and frolic.

Television has changed that. People are once more staying home nights, what with the movies and the ball games and such brought right into their houses. And look at the fine thing it is, too, in that it is keeping the family together and decreasing (statistics prove it) the amount of juvenile delinquency. Yes, video is something more than just good entertainment. . . .

Along that same line, TV engineers have proved through research with libraries and schools that television is NOT cutting down the youngsters' reading habits. Instead, libraries in many of our major cities, according to the researchers, are reporting an appreciable rise in the circulation of children's books.

It all goes to show that television's becoming a way of life. And to keep your set in top shape . . . let our expert technicians handle your repair services. Yes, we have the finest sets—Dumont, RCA Victor, Hoffman and Admiral—and lots of TV know-how at

by Ralph H. Taylor
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

DO FARMERS LIKE GOVERNMENT CONTROL?

Farmers, like many other kinds of businessmen, are often quoted collectively as "for" or "against" a particular proposition when no such sweeping generalization is possible. Regardless of what one group may speak of, the same limitation applies. Most people do, or should, recognize this.

Recently, however, one of our California farmers rejected the feeling of most of our agricultural people here in this state. Frank Siri of East Palo Alto, chairman of the San Mateo Production and Marketing Administration Committee, commonly known as a PMA committee, resigned his voluntary, unpaid position, noting in his letter of resignation:

"(1) The new '1952 Special Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) in San Mateo County' was forced upon a county committee reluctant to accept the plan. Prior to this time I have felt some pride in the fact that the county PMA had discontinued payments on certain ACP practices. This was done because it was believed that through inducement payments farmers had been sufficiently educated and were performing these practices on their own. It was therefore not necessary to continue payments.

"We have been asked now to obtain increased participation in ACP and further, to again include all of the practices that were discontinued. Our present national budget is staggering due to the necessity of increased military spending. Every effort should be made towards economy in government.

"With agriculture in general enjoying the highest standards in history I feel there is absolutely no need for expansion in the amount of funds to be paid farmers. It is my opinion that rather than expand the ACP payments at present we should cut them back.

WANTED—LOCAL CONTROL

"(2) Developments during the past several months have brought to light the fact that Washington politics are influencing the national conservation program. Evidence of this is the recent consolidation with the Soil Conservation Service (SCS), the Family Farm Policy Review, and the 1952 special ACP in San Mateo County. All of these the county committee has been forced to accept whether needed or not and whether right or wrong for this area.

"(3) In accepting the 1952 special ACP we have agreed to have the Soil Conservation Service approve many ACP practices. Further, as previously mentioned, many practices which were discontinued are again included. Many of these practices have been accepted by local farmers and can continue without ACP payments and without approval of the Soil Conservation Service.

"(4) I firmly believe that in the long run it is best to stimulate individuals to be conservation minded by educational means rather than by payments or enforcement. Farmers should not have to be paid for conservation practices which are normanlly done or which should be done on their ranches."

PRINCIPAL IS PARAMOUNT

Mr. Siri then brings to a close seven continuous years of membership in the PMA Committee by saying:

"During the period of my membership as a committeeman I have humbly attempted to perform the duties to the best of my ability. I can no longer continue as a member of this committee and still maintain the moral principles which I believe in."

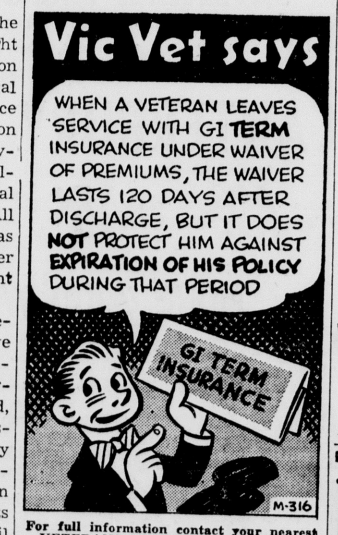

This is the stuff of which farmers are made. They are human like everyone else, of course, and few will refuse to accept checks handed them from a respectable source, particularly when—as with Government checks—they know they are helping to pay the bill for all the others who accept them. Mr. Siri's courageous and forthright actions, however, are heartening as a stroke for the preservation of a free America. We believe it represents the real feeling of most farm people.

PG&E Rate Cut?

Utility-rate downgrading in fringe areas of Centerville is "under study" by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the Centerville Chamber of Commerce was told Monday.

The Chamber had asked reclassification of several streets to save consumers around $2 per month.

The PG&E did not set a date for completion of the study, Acting President William Clark was informed.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

KEBABS ARE FESTIVE FOR BROILER MEALS

by the General Electric Consumers Institute

The dictionary defines "kebabs" thusly:

"In the Orient, meat roasted in small pieces on a skewer and seasoned."

But you don't have to be in the Orient to cook—or to enjoy—kebabs. They can be made from almost any kind of meat, they look festive enough for "company meals", and they are easy to make in the broiler of your range, says the General Electric Consumers Institute.

Here are two kebab recipes, one using lamb and the other for a complete broiler meal of ham kebabs and yams.

Lamb Kebabs

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cloves garlic
1½ pounds boned lamb shoulder, cut in 1½-inch cubes
6 medium tomatoes, halved crosswise
4 small green peppers, quartered and cut in 1½-inch squares

Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan on a high heat; remove from unit. Crush garlic cloves; add to melted butter and let stand 5 minutes. On six 8-inch skewers, alternate meat cubes, tomato halves and green pepper quarters, beginning and ending with lamb cubes. Arrange on broiler rack in broiler pan. Brush with garlic butter. Place broiler pan under broiler unit so top of food is 3-4 inches from broiler unit. Broil kebabs 8 minutes, turn; broil 8 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Ham Kebab Broil

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

18 1-inch ham cubes
24 pineapple chunks
12 pitted ripe olives
12 1-inch crosswise slices cooked yams
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
¼ cup brown sugar

On six 7-inch skewers, place cube of ham, pineapple chunk, olive, pineapple chunk; repeat, ending with a cube of ham. Arrange kebabs in center of broiler rack in broiler pan. Place yam slices on both sides of kebabs. Brush yam slices and kebabs with half the butter. Place broiler pan under broiler unit so top of food is about 6 inches from broiler unit. Broil 8 minutes. Turn. Brush kebabs and yams with remaining butter; sprinkle brown sugar over top of yams; broil 5 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Ham kebabs and yams combine to make a meal that cooks in the broiler of your electric range in only a few minutes and is festive for "company dinners".

ALAMEDA COUNTY UPS POPULATION, BUYING POWER

Oakland and Alameda County have scored new gains in population and in national economic stature, it was revealed today by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in an analysis of a recent survey by Sales Management Magazine.

Dealing only with civilian population as of January 1, 1952, the survey gave Oakland 395,800, an increase of 3 per cent over the April 1, 1950, federal census count. The Oakland Chamber pointed out that this further entrenches Oakland as the 28th largest city in the United States.

Alameda County, the 18th largest in the United States, had a civilian population of 776,700 as of January 1, a 4.9 per cent gain over the 1950 census county, according to the survey. Contra Costa County gained 10.9 per cent in population since the 1950 count to reach a peak of 331,700.

The Alameda-Contra Costa two-county total was up 6.6 per cent to 1,108,400, in contrast to the 3.9 per cent rise of the San Francisco-San Mateo county team, to ,050,700.

In 1951 Oakland made its biggest gains in the national economical picture, jumping one place nationally in the following categories: 24th in retail sales with $629,089,000; 21st in food sales with $135,633,000; 27th in general merchandise sales with $118,492,000; and 14th in furniture-household-radio store sales with $49,702,000.

Alameda County jumped from 19th to 16th place nationally in net effective buying income with $1,569,015,000 (billion)) and was rated 11th in the nation in the per capita effective buying income with $2,020, and advanced one place to 17th in total retail sales with $928,404,000, according to the Sales Management survey.

Alameda County's per family effective buying income was given as $6,202 and Oakland's as $5,846. Others given were: Berkeley, $6,751. Alameda $6,601, San Leandro $6,970, Hayward $5,693, and Albany $6,706.

Gross cash income for Alameda County was estimated as $35,225,000 for 1951, which was 88th in national ranking. Contra Costa county's gross cash farm income for the same period was estimated at $26,242,000.

EAGLES INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Officers of the Alavarado Aerie og Eagles and its auxiliary were jointly installed by the Alameda Ladge's state champion drill team at ceremonies at the Eagles Hall at Alvarado.

Lodge officers installed were Eddie Silva, president, succeeding Raymond Sunha; Frank Sann, vice-president; Ray Alvarez, chaplain; Billie Silva, secretary; Charles Baird, treasurer; Ernie Quadros, conductor; Joe Gallegos and Earl Clark, guards; and Arthur Soito, trustee.

Auxiliary members are Mary Mattox, president; Alvina Leal and Leontine Costa, vice-presidents; Mary Re, chaplain; Susie Davis, secretary; Alice Meneze, treasurer; Esther Gardetto, conductress; Annie Baird and Nellie Richmond, guards; and Adeline Quadros, trustee.

THEY'RE THE BERRIES!—Giant June strawberries from Mission San Jose are displayed at the town's postoffice by Clerk Florence Thompson. The luscious fruits are destined for fast shipment to metropolitan markets. Mrs. Thompson's postal scales disclose the berries weigh more than an ounce apiece. (Register Photo)

PLENTY OF BLOOD - - - BUT WHERE IS IT?

There will be no blood donor day in the township next Monday, according to Mrs. Allan Walton, Red Cross blood procurement chairman of the township.

The mobile unit, ordinarily at the Veterans Building the third Monday of each month, will not be here again until July 21.

"Our last turn-out was a little disappointing," said Mrs. Walton. "By waiting another month, we hope to be able to enlist the interest of more donors. There is a great supply of donors in the township that hasn't yet been tapped," she added, "but in order to make these contacts we have to first have more solicitors. Any person willing to help us solicit donors can be assured that his or her services will be greatly appreciated."

Those who are interested may call Mrs. Walton at her Centerville home.

Below is the list of last month's donors:

Irving Alameda, Max Stevenson, John Cardoza, Elaine Cardoza, Dorothy Soares, Eugene Correia, Ruth Silva, Gus Robertson, James Stanton, Balz Senn.

Edgar Van Scoy, Anna Vonah, Edith Jones, Andrew Costa, Wm. Hescher, E. Johnson, Walt Riddle, Anstacio Eloy Gallegos, Sylvia Rebello, H. Stollenwerk.

Vernice Meekins, Dorothy Oliviera, Sal Valente, R. J. Duggan, Robert Santos, Joe Mendonca, Don Presley, Laura Delgado, Lincoln Ryder, Vernon Brown.

Fair Plans 4-H Day

Plans for 4-H Day June 21 at Alameda County Fair at Pleasanton have been announced by Mrs. Bertha Casterson, president of 4-H Council following a recent council planing session at Amador high school.

An evening program will include a dress review, prize winning demonstrations and music. It will be presented in the Court of Four Seasons.

Home economics, agricultural and clothing demonstrations will be judged during the day on a stage at the rear of the 4-H building, Mrs. Casterson said.

A pig scramble will be held on the field in front of the grandstand immediately after the close of the pari-mutual racing program for the day.

The committee in charge of the 4-H Day program is comprised of Mrs. Conrad Moldt, Pleasanton, chairman; Mrs. Harvey Johnson, Castro Valley; Mrs. Moulton Edmonds, Mt. Eden; Mrs. William Eastman and Mrs. Betty Scott, Pleasanton; Frank Vargas, Mission San Jose; and George Butchko, Palomares.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

Services Sunday, June 15: Holy communion, 8 a.m.; church school, 9:45 a.m.; morning prayer and sermon at 11. This service was originally not scheduled because a choir concert was planned for 4 p.m. However, the choir concert has been postponed.

Answer to this week's "Guess Who": George Roeding.

ALVARADO TAKES POPULATION DROP AS LAW ACTS

Mexico will be 14 citizens richer and Alvarado 14 residents poorer if a houseful of illegal immigrants found last Saturday night in the local town are deported as scheduled.

Acting on a tip that a crew of "wetbacks"—as illicit border-crossers are nicknamed — was occupying a house on Marsh Road, sheriff's deputies went to the scene, entered, and corraled the 14 men.

All admitted being here without immigration clearance. They were removed to Santa Rita prison farm to await federal action.

SHERIFF'S RESERVES IN SPECIAL CLASS

Special agents of the U. S. Secret Service will brief Alameda County Sheriff's Reserves on counterfeit detection during June and July as part of the special law enforcement training program directed by Sheriff H. P. Gleason.

The lecture series opened this week in Hayward, and will continue during the next few weeks, ending with the Washington Township Platoon, Alameda County Building, Niles - Centerville Highway, July 7.

Members of the Sheriff's Reserves, now numbering 156, were deputized last winter at Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center by Sheriff Gleason. Platoons have recently been organized geographically, and hold regular monthly meetings. They will be further divided into squads following the summer vacation season, Gleason said.

In addition to hearing talks by law enforcement authorities, reserves will participate in tests and special problems devised to school them in all phases of police work, and civil defense situations.

ROTARY BARBECUE

Members of the Niles Rotary Club will trek to Gilroy next Thursday for the club's anual barbecue.

TOWNSHIP HOSPITAL GETS ARCHITECT

An architect has been hired to design Washington Township's projected 50-bed community hospital.

L. S. Whitaker, chairman of the hospital district's board of directors, today announced the firm of Sorenson and Ellsworth has been retained to plan the building on Santos Road.

Larue Sorensen, senior firm member, this week opened an office in Niles at the east end of First Street.

Sorensen, of Carmel, designed the Niles and Decoto firehouses, and has been architect for several hospitals. He formerly worked for Robert Stanton, hospital architect for the State Public Health Department.

Sorensen will work for a standard eight-percent fee, one-quarter of which is due on delivery of blueprints. He plans to confer with doctors and civic groups here shortly to determine what features are desirable in the new building, Whitaker added.

The hospital is expected to be financed through public bond issue. If this fails, Sorensen's fee will amount only to cost of work performed, Whitaker said the board was assured.

SLEEP PLUS CIG: HOTEL AFIRE

A sleeping hotel guest started a $75 fire in Newark early Wednesday.

He was identified as Harold W. Jackson, whose room in the M & M Hotel was reported ablaze in pre-dawn hours. The fire, confined to Jackson's mattress and bedclothes, was extinguished by volunteer firemen, who roused Jackson unharmed.

Fire Chief Joe Pashote did not immediately sign a complaint, and said he is conducting a further investigation to determine if Jackson was smoking illegally in bed.

ONLY MEASLES

Two cases of measles were the only infectious diseases reported from Washington Township last week to Dr. James C. Malcolm, county health officer.

NILES CHURCH CHANGES SERVICE HOUR

Beginning Sunday, June 15th and throughout the summer months, church services at Niles Congregational Church will be changed from the present hour of 11:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.

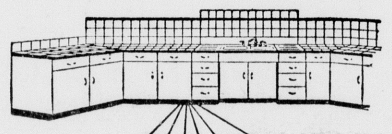

This change in hour will feature a new combination service of worship for both the church school and the church. After the first twenty minutes, the church school, for all departments will be dismissed to class-room sessions, and the remainder of the church service will follow the more traditional pattern.

Mr. Focht's sermon for Sunday is entitled: "And the town was delivered."

NEWARK SCHOOLS REPAY $10,278

Repayments by school districts which borrowed funds from the $250,000,000 school bond issue will start this year, when the state withholds $1,733,188 from its apportionments, according to announcement made today by State Controller Thomas H. Kuechel.

Funds will be deducted from apportionments to 184 school districts which are financially able to start making repayments, Kuchel said.

Repayment for the Newark School District this year will total $10,278. The district was apportioned $225,095.

Repayments are computed annually, Kuchel stated, and are based on the relationship between the districts' assessed valuations and the amounts the districts are required to raise for the payment of principal and interest on their local bonded indebtedness.

Supervisor, First District."

CENTERVILLE MAN FOUND DEAD IN HOME

Neighbors last Saturday found Robert Davidson, 73, retired Centerville dweller, dead on the kitchen floor of his home on B Street near Mowry Road.

Death was attributed to a heart attack. Davidson's body was removed to a mortuary in Oakland, where he reportedly has a daughter.

Davidson was discovered by the 10-year-old daughter of a neighbor, Louis Brandon, when she went to investigate why he failed to answer a phone call.

'SOUTH PACIFIC' DUE IN S. F. AGAIN

In August, 1950, the Civil Light Opera Association of San Francisco brought to the Memorial Opera House the National Company of "South Pacific" which played a 6-week engagement. At that time all theatrical records for the city of San Francisco were broken. "South Pacific" played to more people, grossed more money, and turned more people away than any other attraction ever to play San Francisco.

The San Francisco Civil Light Opera Association is proud to announce that they have booked a return engagement of the National Campany of "South Pacific" starring Janet Blair and Webb Tilton, and featuring Irene Bordoni and David Burns, for a four weeks' engagement at the Memorial Opera House starting Monday, June 30, with matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

"Our Heroine" and "Fo' Dolla'," are the two stories from James A. Michner's book, "Tales of the South Pacific," on which the musical play is primarily based. Characters and incidents from the other tales are also worked into the story of the play which is a unified whole and not episodic as is Michener's book.

BURGLAR SWIPES $84 TRIPOD HERE

A midnight prowler made off with valuable camera equipment from a Centerville photographer last Saturday, the local sheriff's substation was informed.

Elmer D. Stinhilver of 135 Fremont Road complained that he awakened late Saturday to see an unidentified man walk off with an $84 tripod from his unlocked studio.

Stinhilver said he gave chase but surmised the intruder fled in a car, since he heard one start and leave the scene.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

IT'S GOOD BOILED, FRIED, CREAMED, AND SHRIMP MAKES TASTY SOUP, TOO

by the General Electric Consumers Institute

Shrimp are on the market all year round—canned, fresh and frozen—and can be boiled, fried, scalloped, creamed and served in bisques, salads and stews as well as in the perennially popular shrimp cocktail. So they are versatile enough to give a "lift" to your menu in almost every category.

Three main varieties of the little shellfish are available. The smallest size, sometimes a very tiny type called periwinkles, can be used in first courses and whenever chopped or diced shrimp meat is desired. Prawns are larger and more choice, and Florida pinks, a newer variety, are the same shape as the others but are, as you might guess, pink in color when raw.

You can buy shrimp raw or frozen in the shell by the pound or cooked in the can or frozen.

How to Select

Small shrimp and prawns, says the General Electric Consumers Institute, should be grayish green in color when raw. Don't buy them if they look very pink under the shell, and remember that the tinier they are, the harder they are to clean.

Because shrimp are seldom marketed cooked out of the shell except to prevent spoilage, it's not a good idea to buy them that way; spoiled shrimp can cause severe digestive disorders.

Canned shrimp is cooked when you get it (and sometimes cleaned). Frozen shrimp is also cooked, and usually cleaned, when you buy it.

How Much to Buy

It will help to know that one pound of raw shrimp equals about 1½ cups of cooked shrimp and that one pound will make 2-4 servings, depending how it is served (two servings of salad, four servings of an entree like shrimp Creole with rice).

Raw shrimp should be used as soon as possible after it is purchased. Remove the shell, clean the shrimp and store covered in the refrigerator. When cooked, shrimp can be stored 1-2 days in the refrigerator without spoiling.

Canned shrimp is stored like any other canned food. Frozen shrimp should be kept in the food freezer until ready for use or in the freezer of your refrigerator not longer than 1-2 weeks. Do not refreeze frozen shrimp that have thawed!

Boiled Shrimp

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

1 pound raw large shrimp or prawns
2 quarts water
1 tablespoon salt
1 stalk celery, broken in 2-3 pieces

With a sharp or serrated knife, cut through shell and about halfway through shrimp along back. Wash slit under running water to remove as much of black line as possible. Place water and salt in thrift cooker and bring to boil on a high heat. Add celery and prepared shrimp, cover loosely and bring water to boil again. Switch to a medium heat and boil 5-6 minutes. Drain, run cold water over shrimp for about 1 minute, drain. Remove shells and finish cleaning black line from shrimp. Chill in refrigerator until ready to use. Makes about 2 cups shrimp.

Waffled Seafood Sandwiches

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

1 cup canned or fresh shrimp, crabmeat or lobster (6½-7 ounce can)
¼ cup grated sharp process cheese
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 teaspoons lemon juice (if desired)
⅛ teaspoon salt
8 bread slices

Dice shrimp and mix thoroughly with cheese, mayonnaise, lemon juice, and salt. Spread mixture on 4 bread slices, top with remaining bread slices. Preheat automatic sandwich grill using waffle grids at a medium-high position, or non-automatic 5-6 minutes. Place 2 sandwiches at a time between grids and toast 5-7 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Curried Shrimp

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

2½ tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons flour
1¼ teaspoons curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon powdered ginger
1 chicken bouillon cube
½ cup boiling water
1 cup milk
2 cups cooked frozen shrimp
½ teaspoon lemon juice

Melt butter in medium saucepan on a high heat. Add onions and saute on a medium heat until tender. Blend in flour, curry powder, salt, sugar and ginger. Add bouillon cube dissolved in boiling water and milk; cook on a medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add unthawed shrimp and lemon juice, cover and cook on a low heat 5 minutes or until shrimp is completely heated. Serve on rice or waffles. Makes 4 servings.

Shrimp Bisque

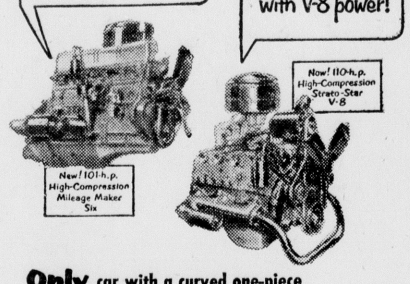

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 small onion, grated (2 tablespoons)
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Speck of pepper
Speck of mace
2½ cups milk
⅔ cup chicken broth
½ cup cooked shrimp, minced
1 tablespoon parsley, minced
⅓ cup light cream, or top milk
¼ teaspoon lemon rind, grated

Place butter in thrift cooker. Switch to a high heat. Melt butter, add onion. Cook until onion is yellow, stirring occasionally. Add flour and seasoning; blend thoroughly. Add milk and broth gradually while stirring constantly. Cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Switch to a low heat. Add shrimp and parsley. Cook 10 minutes. Add cream and lemon rind and reheat. Makes 4 servings.
